

Are you interested in taking courses related to Sport Management?

NIH offers free online courses with ECTS credits

NIH offers the following courses for the upcoming fall semester (Aug – Dec):

- SPM104 - Sport and Sustainability (10 ECTS)
- SPM120 - Performance-enhancement and anti-doping in Sport (5 ECTS)
- SPM121 - Sport for development and sustainability (10 ECTS)

No prior knowledge in the topics is required to take these courses.

The courses are module-based, giving students the flexibility to decide when to complete each module, within the timeframe of the semester. The home-based exam is planned for the end of the semester.

Students can choose how many courses they wish to take. As a student from one of NIH's partner institutions, you are guaranteed admission to the courses if you get nominated and complete the admission process.

No restrictions on the number of students that can be nominated.

Contact your international office if you are interested and want to be nominated.

Deadline to apply is June 15.

