

NIH offers free online courses with ECTS credits

Courses for the upcoming fall semester (August – December):

- LK1152 - Introduction to the Movement Sciences (10 ECTS)
- SPM120 - Performance-enhancement and anti-doping in Sport (5 ECTS)
- SPM121 - Sport for development and sustainability (10 ECTS)
- SPM123 - International Organization of Sport (10 ECTS)
- THP111 – Female Athlete – Health and Performance (10 ECTS)

No prior knowledge in the topics is required to take these courses.

Nordic students with a good knowledge in one of the Scandinavian languages can also register for online courses in Norwegian. Scan the QR code to see all available online courses.

The courses are module-based, giving students the flexibility to decide when to complete each module, within the timeframe of the semester. The online exam is planned for the end of the semester.

Students can choose how courses they wish to take in the beginning of the semester. As a student from one of NIH's partner institutions, you are guaranteed admission to the courses if you get nominated and complete the admission process.

Contact your international office if you are interested and want to be nominated.

Deadline: June 15, 2024